

SAWING AWAY FOR ELBA

BY SAM SAWYER

CHAIRMAN ELBA INDUSTRIAL BOARD

TO BETTER THE LOT OF THE MAN ON THE LAND

Lets go trucking for more money, a shorter run, still time for fun.

This spring our first attempt at truck farming was produced in the trade area of Elba. A round $400,000 worth of fresh purple hull peas at local market prices.

I hope plans are being made now for a much larger sum next spring, lets say at least $750,000 to $1,000,000.

Mr. Farmer, it will pay you to check into this if you were not in on this spring crop of purple hull peas. We have one of the garden spots of the country here round Elba for truck farming.

You realize as well as I that you cannot do this for your self, that we must all work together to promote this undertaking. The sooner we get started the sooner we will establish a market, get contracts, agreed on prices, acreage allotment, etc.

With our rivers, creeks, lakes, ponds, springs, wells, etc., we have a natural for irrigation for truck farming.

We have lowlands, flats, valleys for producing vegetables in great volume at a minimum cost. Please don't hold me responsible for the pledge I promise but I am going to do all I can to get the state to build us a farmers' produce market place in Elba beginning January 15, 1962, with every one's help and support in our community.

With small quotas allotted for cotton and peanuts each year I feel this is the answer to supplement our income from our soil. The demand for food products through truck farming will continue to grow much greater each year with many new households, through marriages and people living longer. An increase in population each 4,000,000 new mouths to feed for years to come.

Why not start now and plan to plant tomatoes, corn, peas, etc. to come off early so that you can get a very good price for local market. Also water-melons, cantaloupes. We hope some day to attract a food canner to set up an operation in or around Elba which would mean about $300,000.00 to $400,000.00 income for truck farmers in our section.

There is no reason we cannot produce large quantities of sweet potatoes, turnips, peas, beets, corn, squash, string beans, mustard, collards, okra, butter beans, asparagus, tomatoes, hot peppers, bell and pimiento peppers. You can pack the above items in freezer cartons and sell to the stores and cafes for resale, or sell direct to the home for later use.

If you would save your cuttings from bottles and other bottles and fill with good hot red and green peppers in lukewarm pure vinegar we can sell a very good quantity for you by the Sawyer Candy Company.

The above firm also carries bags and cartons for packing fresh, deep freeze use for resale.

At this point I cannot help but comment on the fine relations that exist between the two races in our town and community. Personally, I do not think you could find a finer group of colored people in any town in Alabama than we have here in Elba.

I'm glad we are acting and not talking about the needs of our colored people in Elba.

When equipped, they will have a new, modern $125,000 school system for better learning and training. I had the pleasure of visiting the colored school along with about twenty other people sometime before the new building was started, and I was very much impressed with the way they were taking advantage of the things they had to work with. The class rooms, even though under bad repair and need of a coat of paint, etc., looked about very neat, clean and bright, and students eager to learn.

As we move out of schools and colleges with our natural talent, intelligence and a wonderful education, none of these guarantees success.

Something else is needed. The sensitivity to understand what other people want and the willingness to give it to them. In order to get what we want, we have to give other people what they want.

Worldly success depends on pleasing others. No one is going to win fame, recognition, or advancement just because he thinks he deserves it—some one else has to think so too.

One of my very good colored friends was building a brick embankment wall as you approach Lake Lorene. My brother-in-law, Henry Dorsey, came by, stopped and ask Ardis what he was doing. Ardis answer was "Well, Mr. Henry, Mr. Sam is got me building this brick embankment, but he is shore got me cut out on a pattern bigger than I fit."

But Ardis built the wall, and a job well done.

Sometimes, alas, peanuts are too.

I'm sure that the white, as well as the colored people of our community, will remember this great colored scientist and teacher for years to come. He did so much for our own section.

SAWING AWAY FOR ELBA

BY SAM SAWYER

CHAIRMAN ELBA INDUSTRIAL BOARD

WHAT IS A PROFIT?

The Bible dictionary says a prophet is divinely appointed ministers of Jehovah to declare His will.

The Hebrew word signifies one who announces. A direct personal relation existed between him and God.

As I see it the same exists today between God and man as to MATERIAL PROFITS. The Lord made the heaven and the earth and all the things there in. So he made it possible that we might enjoy the benefits we reap from our efforts.

We sometimes don't want to give God the credit or the interest on the principal. This causes us to have a direct relation with God. Through our efforts our future course is revealed. Many of us not only ignore the fact that we owe the Lord at least 10 percent as interest on our gains each year, we have also lost sight of the brotherly love one for another.

We have lost track of the better business ethics toward one another. We as people are funny, we like to make a profit, but we don't want to give a profit for what we purchase when we stop to think about it we must first give a profit before we can make a profit ourselves. Or we have to buy in most instances before we can sell as a merchant.

The wage earner must earn before he can spend. Profits make jobs for people and when profits fall too low, jobs are lost. If wage earners, white collar employees, etc. "It is unwise to pay too much, but its worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money... that is all. When you pay too little you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot. If it can't be done, if you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run, and if you do that you will have enough to pay for something better." John Rus-

A competitor sometimes does more for you than a friend. A friend is too polite to point out your weakness, but a competitor will take the trouble to advertise them.

A competitor's ability should never be underestimated. The business grave yard is full of companies who figured the competition was stupid, short sighted, or just plain lazy. It takes a mighty conscientious person to know where contentment ends and laziness begins.

Some people are like blot- ters. They soak it all in but get it all backwards.

Some people stop to think and never start again.

What a terrific day it would be if we all made as much noise when things go right as we do when things go wrong.

The best way to stop that annoying noise in your ear is to let it drive.

Time heals everything but wrinkles, and speaking of time, did you ever get the uncomfortable feeling that your gray hair was not premature.

The person who is seldom right, is always the one who is never in doubt.

The hardest secret for a man to keep is his opinion of himself.

It is true that nature has given us one tongue, and two ears, that we may hear more than we speak.

All the constitution guarantees is the pursuit of happiness — you have to catch up with it yourself.

Some cause happiness where they go. Some wherever they go.

Of all things you wear, your expression is the most important.

The coating of civilization is so thin that it often comes off with a little alcohol.

Worry is like a rocking chair. It keeps you busy but it doesn't get you anywhere.

Most household budgets have too much month left over at the end of the month.

Why is it when a woman tells a doctor she is all tired out immediately looks at her tongue?

Why do we think that a Demonstration Club met on Friday October 5th with Mrs. Lloyd Chancellor. Eleven members were present. In the absence of the president Mrs. Curtis Chapman presided.

Mrs. Curtis Chapman, president, Mrs. Son Lowery, the song leader, sang a story of the song "In The Cross of Christ and Glory."

The devotion was given by Mrs. Vernon Napper. Other business was attended to and Mrs. Sara Lucian gave an interesting and helpful lesson on "Arranging helpful lesson on 'Arranging Furniture'" and also showed picture slides. Other members attending were: Mrs. Lizzie Stanton, Mrs. Hub Stanton, Mrs. Lucy Chancellor, Mrs. Douglas Green, Mrs. Maud Barr and Mrs. J. C. Paul.

The hostess served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jerome Senn in November.

On Tuesday October 9, the Curtis Jr. 4-H Club held its regular meeting. The meeting was called to order by Linda Donaldson. The group was led in a song by Vivian Grimes and Jeanine Spann. Martha Sue Spann gave the devotional. Patsy Flowers, vice president led the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag and the 4-H club flag.

The group selected projects for the coming year. An interesting demonstration was given by Mrs. Hutchison on skin care. The meeting was adjourned until the regular meeting November 13th.

Senator Hill Emphasizes Seniority

The accumulated seniority and experience of Alabama's congressional delegation has been a bulwark against anti-segregation legislation and has helped win many programs beneficial to the south, Senator Hill told a Seventh District political rally in Jasper earlier this month.

"The most effective work in Congress is done in the Senate floor," said Hill. "Just in the past session of Congress as chairman of the Senate Committee on Education and Public Welfare, I was able to bottle up ten anti-segregation bills, including two FEPC bills and a school desegregation bill. Rights have never been civil rights under any health or education bill I come out of my committee. If there should be any change in the chairmanship of the committee, I can tell you that the new chairman would not be from the south or for the south and her way of life. I do not have to spell out what this would mean as far as civil rights legislation is concerned."

Senator Hill pointed out that southern Democrats held 11 of 18 committee chairmanships in the Senate and 13 of 32 chairmanships in the House of Representatives, in addition to countless key subcommittee positions.

"These southern Democrats are our friends and comrades in arms," he said. "My good friend Senator Jim Eastland of Mississippi is able each year to block many anti-segregation measures as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. But if some northern senator—either Republican or Democrat—should become chairman of that committee, there is no telling how many so-called civil rights bills would be reported to the Senate each session of Congress."

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

LAUGHTER, FRIENDS, and a delectable dinner were enjoyed by all who attended the annual dinner of the University Alumni Association last Tuesday evening. The Enterprise Country Club was the setting and the food certainly lived up to the expectations of those who have dined there before. Everything was beautifully served and prepared.

Highlight of the evening was a brief speech by Alto Lee, III, of Dothan who told us several vitally interesting facts about the University Extension Center in Dothan. We were not aware of the scope of this service and it was gratifying to learn that along with its regular college courses, the center offers cultural and business courses—such things as art, interior decoration, business investment and management. These meet once a week for five or ten weeks.

Charles Jones, director of the center revealed that the program has been so successful that the center is now overflowing with students.

Spent part of the time in realizing how very attractive are the facilities of the University Extension Center in Dothan. Both wearing their silver hair in this season's casual coiffure.

Elba was well represented and we were gratified to see the following take time from their many activities to attend: Ben and Doris Brock, Judge and Jean Paul, Paul and Nancy Morrow, Sam and Mary Louise Collier, Sam and Lorene Sawyer, Katherine Dorsey, Donald and Doris Crook, Gareth and Dot Lindsey.

As is always the case, we enjoyed the time spent with Becky and Ken Fuller of Enterprise, Becky being one of those delightful, genuine people and a friend on long standing.

A MARVELOUS TRIP is being enjoyed this week by Katherine and "Miss Auntie" Dorsey who drove to Bowling Green, Kentucky to visit Pete and Dixie Dorsey. After several days of sightseeing, they returned to Elba on Sunday.

End of the Quest

Wise Men traveled a desert to lay their gifts before a King.

But the King was a mere babe. His court was a cattle shed; His princely garb swaddling bands.

Could they be certain when they knelt by the manger that this was the end of the quest?

Their certainty came not of proof but of faith. They had marveled at the heavens... followed a gleaming star... listened to prophecy. For Wise Men this was enough!

And through the centuries others have sought the King. Eagerly, earnestly they have come into the reverent beauty of the Church. And there, as ancient Words cast their light in man's darkness, they have known the end of their quest.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a nucleus of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend church regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
